DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed on October 11, 2006 is acknowledged.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, "the electromagnetic reflector" of claims 16-17 and "the ground plane of the antenna" of claims 18 and 31 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 16 and 17 are double recitations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 1-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by McKinzie, III (the US Patent No. 6,525,695).

The McKinzie, III reference teaches in figures 4-7 a reconfigurable frequency selective surface (FSS) comprising: a plurality of conducting patches 416 supported on a first surface of a dielectric material 404; and a plurality of switches 414, each switch electrically interconnecting at least two of the plurality of conducting patches when the switch is selected, wherein a first ensemble of switches 414 is selectable so as to provide a first configuration of electrically interconnected conducting patches, a second ensemble of switches 414 is selectable so as to provide a second configuration of electrically interconnected conducting patches, and the FSS being part of an artificial conductor ground plane, the AMC further including the dielectric material 404 and a conducting sheet 406 on a second surface of the dielectric material (figures 5 and 7). The first configuration of electrically interconnected conducting patches provides a first resonance frequency and the second configuration of electrically interconnected conducting patches provides a second resonance frequency (col. 6, lines 16-46). The first configuration of electrically interconnected conducting patches comprises a repeat unit cell pattern of electrically interconnected conducting patches (figure 4). The first configuration of electrically interconnected conducting patches comprises a two-dimensional array of unit cell patterns of electrically interconnected conducting patches (figure 4). The plurality of conducting patches are disposed in a square or rectangular grid pattern on the first surface of the dielectric material (figure 4). Each conducting patch has a square or rectangular shape (figure 4). The plurality of conducting patches is arranged in a plurality of fractal arrays (figure 4). The FSS has a doubly periodic structure (col. 5, lines 23+). The artificial magnetic conductor is a part of an electromagnetic reflector (col. 2, lines 15-25). The artificial magnetic conductor is a ground plane for an antenna (col. 1, lines 30-35). The resonance frequency of the at least one region is independently adjustable (col. 5, lines 1-8). The resonance frequency of the region is adjusted by modifying the dielectric constant of a tunable dielectric (col. 10, line 56).

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
